A Message from the Minister

Two months ago, a colleague of mine asked, “Beloved agnostic colleagues: Where are you getting fed these days?” This question has stuck with me. Some folks answered the question with jest. These included jokes like “the grocery store” or the Japanese word “Tsundoku,” which means acquiring reading materials but letting them pile up in one's home without reading them. There were also some predictable comments, ones I may have left like “nature,” “community,” and mentions of different books. I appreciated someone mentioning that they browse PubMed, a biomedical citation website. PubMed reminds them to be in awe of all the good humans doing good work to make a difference. What is feeding you? Where do you find wonder?

In a sermon in December, I mentioned the James Webb Telescope. If you haven't seen it, NASA released a test image comparing a picture from Webb to an older telescope. It is truly stunning.

I wanted to let everyone know my schedule as I depart the UUCC. My last Sunday sermon will be July 3. My last day in the office will be Tuesday, July 5. After that, I will be on vacation before my wedding and move. I look forward to continuing to work with you all until then.

As always, you are invited to reach out to me for any reason. I am available for a conversation by appointment. As an interim, I am especially interested in hearing your thoughts. Additionally, I am available for pastoral care conversations on various topics. I continue to offer weekly "Coffee with Chloe" sessions on Tuesdays from 10-11 am on the church zoom.

Upcoming Services

Worship Theme for May – Nurturing Beauty

Join us as we explore the challenges and adventures of Nurturing Beauty.

THIS Sunday May 15, 2022 10:00 a.m. IN-PERSON Ingathering music to begin at 9:50 a.m.	“The World That We Are Writing” Rev. Molly Brewer Creative and imaginative pursuits such as writing, art, roleplaying games, and beyond are often discussed in terms of the benefits they can bring to the individual creator. Creativity and imagination can help us to explore our own interior landscapes, center ourselves in our values, and appreciate the world around us—but they can also be a powerful tool to help us connect with one another across difference by expanding our sense of who we are in the world. Our Sunday service will explore the ways our imagination and the spirit of creativity prepare us to offer radical welcome to our communities and to ourselves. Rev. Molly Brewer (fae/faer pronouns) is a Unitarian Universalist minister based in rural New Hampshire, where fae lives with faer spouse and three cats. Rev. Molly has previously served the First Unitarian Church of Rochester, NY as Youth Ministry coordinator. In addition, Rev. Molly has served as a group facilitator for the UUA's LeaderLab and for the Church of the Larger Fellowship; and fae has preached and hosted educational workshops at UU congregations across the country.
NEXT Sunday May 22, 2022 10:00 a.m. IN PERSON Ingathering music to begin at 9:50 a.m.	"The Speed of Trust " Chloë Briedé, UUCI Interim Minister with adrienne maree brown talks about "moving at the speed of trust." On this weekend of restorative justice circles, Chloe will talk about making trust a spiritual practice. How can we deepen our trust in one another and ourselves? Special thanks to our worship associate Sara Hodgkins and our pianist Karen Foust and the UUCI Chor.

BLANKETS FOR UKRAINE

This announcement came from the Waterville UU church. If you make blankets, please get them to Kathy Kellison (kell6787@gmail.com) who will see that they get to Cape Neddick

We are all aware of the world news and feel deeply helpless for the Ukrainian people and those in neighboring countries trying to assist in this long crisis.

THERE IS AN URGENT NEED FOR SINGLE LAYER, WASHED FLANNEL BLANKETS FOR BABIES AND TODDLERS.

We like them approximately 42" long (which is 1 ¼ yards.) Please finish the edges with serging, zigzag or fold and stitch. We are NOT accepting fleece blankets at this time due to the added weight.

When we have sufficient blankets to fill boxes they will be shipped off to Baranova 27 in New Jersey. Once there, our blankets will be loaded in container ships or air freighted to Odessa, Ukraine and Warsaw, Poland.

Please feel free to drop off blankets in the DAG box at 189 Clay Hill Road, Cape Neddick, ME 03902

RESTORATIVE JUSTICE PROCESS

Please R.S.V.P.

<Reprint of email 5/10/22>

Dear UUC,

The Board has contracted with the Rev. Paul Langston-Daley to facilitate two restorative justice circles for us. These circles will be an open and honest place for you to share your experience of the conflict, hear from others, and consider the next steps. From our reflections, Rev. Paul will then give us his recommendations for becoming more of the community we want to be.

Rev. Paul is a Unitarian Universalist minister with experience running restorative circles for many congregations. He is an independent contractor and not UUA staff. He views his role as being a neutral third party. The framing of these circles and questions for reflection are attached to this email.

When and Where? Thursday, May 19 from 6–9 pm on the church Zoom or Saturday, May 21 from 10 am–2 pm in the Sanctuary. Lunch will be provided on Saturday.

Please RSVP so we can get the right amount of food for Saturday. RSVP to Lynn at admin@augustauu.org.

Questions? Contact Interim Minister Chloe, Kathy Ann Shaw, or Kathy Kellison.

I hope you will join us to get your voice heard in this important process.

In Faith,

Chloë

COVID-19 Advisory Group UPDATE

Kennebec County is now YELLOW

There is no question that we are all fed up with COVID dominating our lives. We're tired of wearing masks, avoiding crowds, reading about COVID, hearing about COVID and thinking about COVID. Unfortunately, COVID has not gotten tired of us.

Maine currently has the nation's fourth highest number of new cases per capita of COVID. As of today, there were 209 Mainers in the hospital with COVID, the highest number since February. Kennebec county has gone from green to yellow on the federal CDC's website, with half of the counties in Maine now being red. The Augusta waste water COVID concentration is 2 1/2 times higher than the national average, placing us in the top 14% of waste water COVID in the United States. All of this means that there is a lot of COVID-19 circulating in the Augusta area.

As a result of Kennebec county being labeled yellow, the church will move to 6 feet of physical distancing between seats and rows for the worship service on Sunday, May 15. This will limit the capacity of the Sanctuary to about 30 people with the Fellowship Hall being used for additional attendees.

Dr. Don on Covid-19

Dr. Don On COVID-19      When Second In The Nation Is Not Good

A week ago I speculated on what "endemic" COVID might look like and this week we have additional indications of what we may continue to see.

Maine is currently second in the nation for highest COVID case rate behind Rhode Island according to the U.S. CDC, and new COVID variants account for 80 percent of these new infections in Maine. Maine CDC says that increase shows the pandemic is not yet behind us and Mainers should continue to keep their guard up.

Maine State Epidemiologist Dr. Isaac Benowitz said "I think it makes sense to take precautions when COVID is around and when there's more of it around. We've gotten quite good at these precautions over the past few years but what we've gotten a little less good at is actually using them when we know that we need them."

The U.S. CDC updated its county-level risk assessments designating eight Maine counties as high risk for COVID-19 after a rise in cases due to the new variants. The eight counties designated as high-risk are Cumberland, Sagadahoc, Lincoln, Knox, Hancock, Penobscot, Piscataquis and Aroostook. Under current CDC guidelines everyone is urged to wear masks while in indoor public spaces in high-risk areas. Androscoggin is the only green, low risk, county. All remaining counties are considered to be at medium risk, which urges people with underlying health conditions to mask.

Some health experts say that the current state of the disease is such that wearing a mask in areas of high caseloads is like putting on a coat when it's raining. "I think it's just a matter of just like we watch the weather... to figure out what we're going to wear every day. And it's the same thing with COVID," said Dr. Dora

Mills, of MaineHealth. “You know, look at the incidences and your area, and if it's high, it's going up and put on some extra layers of protection.”

Despite the rising numbers, there are no current requirements from the Maine CDC. Several municipalities are calling for masks to be worn in town offices and facilities regardless of vaccination status. Schools in Portland, Bangor, Brunswick and several other communities are returning to mask use. Acadia National Park is again requiring masks be used in any of their buildings as is Bangor International Airport.

Knowing the ability of this virus to quickly change it seems likely that we will need to be prepared to protect ourselves against new versions of COVID in the future.
